Martin's Ferry Celebrates the Republican Victory Finely.

THOUSANDS THROUGH THE STREETS

And Enthusiasm Reigned Supreme. Cheers for McKinley, Heinelein and Protection and Many Other Voices. Raise the Welkin—Numerous Hand-some Displays in Wagons—A Brilliant Jollification.

Saturday night was probably the biggest night that Martin's Ferry ever saw. The Republicans celebrated their great victory of last Tuesday and did it successfully.

Not until Friday afternoon was it decided to have a jollification, and the committee, consisting entirely of young men, was a small one, but notwithstanding this fact it was the best blow-out ever witnessed in the city. Many say it was the largest, and not a few persons say it beat any jollification ever held in Belmont county. The number of persons on the streets seemed to be larger than on any former night in Martin's Ferry. Wheeling, Pellaire and Bridgeport all sent large crowds and the country was well represented. There was more enthusiasm to the square inch than ever before. Pandemonium reigned supreme. From the amount of noise on the streets one would suppose that nine persons out of ten were Republicans. The name of McKinley was heard everywhere; it was on the tongue of the old and young, both male and female. Many voices are still out of tune. Had James G. Blaine been elected President it is doubtful if his election would have made a crowd happier than was Saturday night's. "Protection" was heard on all sides and hundreds yelled for Heinelein.

Martin's Ferry had witnessed some sort of a celebration every night since the election, but Saturday night's, although impromptu, was the Barnum of them all. The city was ablaze with red fire and fireworks of all kinds and was beautifully decorated and illuminated from one end to the other.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the procession, which formed on Hanover, Fourth and Fifth streets, moved and marched over the principal streets of Martin's Ferry, countermarching on Main and Broadway. Two full hours were spent in marching, and few grew tired. Mayor Theo. Kellor was chief marshal and had ten aides, all prominent Republicans.

Meister's full brass band, of Bridgeport, headed the big parade and played patriotic and lively airs. There were drum corps in wagons and on foot, and individual drummer boys were scattered through the column. The tin horns was blown as never before; it was large and small, painted and unpainted, old men and boys blowing. Many rang bells, some had "snappers," others "screamers," others bones, others tambourines, while others carried tin, sheet iron, bass fiddles, "circulators," etc., all of which were used. Every man and boy had his campaign voice with him.

In the wagon of Thomas Yingling, a butcher, was a hand organ, fog horns and bells, and some people thought he had a callopie. In one wagon there were ten or twelve drums. A. F. Koehesen, a tinner, had a wagon covered with tin, sheet and galvanized iron, and in this the supply of red fire was carried and red fire was burned in a pan which would illuminate the half of a street at a time.

C. S. Moore, the contractor, was in line with a large wagon on which appeared a school house, with seats on both sides, his workmen occupying one side and young ladies the other.

James Jamison and John Goodman were out with a wagon in which were Goodman and others cutting stone.

In William Soldkeld's wagon was a log cabin, with a con on top of it. T. H. Stanton made a unique display of queensware and glassware in his wagon.

The Glenn's Run Republican Club burned thirty-seven dozen roman candles in its wagon.

In addition to these there were landaus, carriages, buggies, milk wagons and other vehicles. Every vehicle was decorated and burned red fire and fireworks.

The "Secured to Say" Club, a social organization, was out with a drum corps, banner, badges, red fire, roman candles, etc., and made a fine showing.

The most ludicrous turnout was that of the miscellaneous costumes. Men and boys were dressed as clowns, circus riders, minstrel men, comedians, dukes, and girls. Among them were mother hubbards, wrappers, night shirts, red dresses and white dresses. There were no two alike. Some of the boys were stylishly dressed and quite dignified, while most of them were out for a time and had it. One party of dancers was funnier than a band of monkeys. This part of the parade is said to be the best ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Democrats were seen in the parade who voted for McKinley and Democrats who did not.

The bonfire in front of J. B. Montgomery's store was the largest ever seen in Martin's Ferry.

"Signal Lights."

The Wheeling favorites, Gray & Stephens' Dramatic Company, will for the first time in this city present their latest success, "Signal Lights," at the Grand, the last half of this week. Their stay in this city will be for three nights and a grand children's Saturday matinee. They open Thursday, November 16. The company this year is stronger than ever, introducing the charming and petite artist, Miss Jessie Sutton (Queen, in the star role, supported by Frank H. White, the negro delineator, and a competent company of players, now and elaborate scenery, sweet songs and catching specialties; also, W. L. Stephens' celebrated trained St. Bernard dogs, Russian ponies, pet lamb and educated donkey, "Pete," will incidentally appear.

"Zeb" To-night.

The hilarious Hoosier comedy drama, "Zeb," will be the attraction at the Grand this evening. From all reports it will be one of this season's best comedy productions. The cast includes such well known favorites as Miss Rose Melville, Kathryn Evans, John T. Hudson, Ivin T. Bush, C. B. Gillinger, Robert Bauers and many others. The piece is staged with all special scenery and some new and wonderful mechanical effects. In the fourth act the World's Fair is shown, and every building of any importance can be seen. There is plenty of good singing and dancing and a good performance is assured.

SHOES—ALEXANDER.

WE TAKE PAINS to see that every man and woman coming into our store gets a proper fit in shoes. In some stores the salesmen are lazy and let you take away a shoe that fits indifferently, to save themselves the trouble of rummaging among the shelves for the proper thing. It costs us nothing to take special trouble, and we find the satisfaction it gives customers makes it well worth our while. A single ill-fitting pair of shoes is enough to start sores that will last a life-time. Trading at a store where you are sure to get nothing but "fit" means

ALEXANDER, FOR 1049 Main Street. YOU. If You See It in our "ad." It's so.

AN OLD FAVORITE RETIRES.

Martin Thornton Leaves His Hotel, the Brunswick.

Martin Thornton has leased the Hotel Brunswick, Nos. 1135 and 1137 Market street, to Louis Koesser, an experienced hotel man, who takes charge this morning. Mr. Thornton desires to return thanks to his old friends and patrons for their liberal patronage in the past and bespeaks for his successor a continuance of the same.

Mr. Thornton retires for a rest after a close confinement to business for the past twenty years. In whatever walk of life he makes his future choice Wheeling people unite in the wish that he may still continue to live in Wheeling. Few men have had so honorable a career in one line of business for a score of years, never changing except in the way of improving his facilities, and from a modest beginning he has built up one of the best European hotels in the state. He has in that time won the confidence of all with whom he came in contact, and has prospered as he deserved. The community cannot afford to lose such a citizen and business man, and all heartily wish him a long and increasingly prosperous career.

A HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

A Man Robbed of Nearly $40 in East Wheeling Last Night.

About a quarter before eleven last night a huckster, Ed J. Bock, who lives at 2112 Alley F, was walking along Seventeenth street, near Alley E, when three men stepped out of the alley and seized him. One man clapped his hand over his mouth and the other two held him, while one of them went through his pockets. They took two pocketbooks, one of them containing $38 or $39. The other had nothing in it but papers, and it was thrown away and recovered later.

One of the men had on a light checked coat, cutaway or sack. They were not shabbily dressed. Bock came to police headquarters and told his story, but could not give much of a description of the robbers. His face was red, as if he had been struck. The police were all notified, but up to late hour no trace of the thieves had been found.

Four Cases Booked.

Officer Damm yesterday arrested Simon Burkhardt, an East Wheeling saloon-keeper, for selling on Sunday, and also lodged against him a charge of abusive language to an officer. Officer Fitzgerald ran in Ed Goudy Saturday night, for disorderly conduct, and Officer Carney put in Emery Shafer, as a plain drunk.

You're Glad You're Alive If you drink Smith's ale and porter.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. What this medicine has done for thousands of delicate women, it will do for you. If you're overworked and debilitated, it will build you up—if you're borne down with the chronic colics, pains, and weakness peculiar to your sex, it relieves and cures. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, invigorates the system, purifies the blood, improves digestion, and restores health, flesh, and strength.

For all the painful irregularities and diseases of women—periodical pains, displacements and other displacements, bearing-down sensations, and "female complaints" and weakness, it's the only remedy so effective that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back.

BLANKETS—GEO. E. STIFEL & CO.

BLANKETS.

At this season everyone has given "SPECIALS" on Blankets, but it remains for us to place within the reach of every family THE MOST DURABLE BLANKET MADE. This may seem to you a radical claim, but we can back it up, for we have just closed a contract this past week with the Zanesville Woolen Manufacturing Company, whereby we take their entire stock of Blankets on hand up to this date. This means that we have over 450 pairs of these celebrated Blankets of various grades, but THIS WEEK make one price on all, viz:

Single Blankets, Finished on Both Ends, at $2.15 Each.

You rarely have an opportunity to buy single Blankets finished, and these are special values, worth double our price.

DOUBLE BLANKETS, Regular made, full width and weight at $4.25 Each.

Just a saving to you of about three dollars.

Sale begins MONDAY MORNING and continues till all are sold, but you don't want to put off buying or you won't get any. These Blankets will not be sent on approval, exchanged or taken back.
